Brand New Book  Print on Demand .PROLOGUE In the month of December 1918, and on the very day that a British Cavalry Division marched into Cologne, with flags flying and bands playing as the conquerors of a beaten nation, the manager of the Hotel Nationale in Berne received a letter. Its contents appeared to puzzle him somewhat, for having read it twice he rang the bell on his desk to summon his secretary. Almost immediately the door opened, and a young French girl came into the room. Monsieur rang? She stood in front of the manager's desk, awaiting instructions. Have we ever had staying in the hotel a man called le Comte de Guy? He leaned back in his chair and looked at her through his pince-nez. The secretary thought for a moment and then shook her head. Not as far as I can remember, she said. Do we know anything about him? Has he ever fed here, or taken a private room? Again the secretary shook her head. Not that I know of. The manager handed her the letter, and waited in...
